IPAs	Belgian Ales	Sour Beers	Stouts	Session Beers	Lagers	Wheat Beers
Brimming with tropical, citrus, piney aromas and resinous bitterness, India pale ales are synonymous with San Diego's bold, enlivened brewing scene.	SoCal takes on Belgian classics range from funky farmhouse ales and fruity tripels to caramely dubbels and robust, diversely flavored strong ales.	From tart, refreshing German Berliner weisse to fruit-laden lambics, woody Flemish reds and outlandish gueuzes, sours challenge perceptions of all beer is and can be.	The most obsidian limb of beer's family tree offers light-drinking porters, dry Irish stouts, creamy oatmeal stouts and rich, chocolaty imperial stouts.	This term refers to lower-alcohol beers imbibers can enjoy several of in a single sitting, including bitters, brown ales, pale ales and "session IPAs."	From straw-hued Pilsners and backs-to-medium-bodied dunkels and doppelbocks to dark Baltic porters, the lager spectrum is flavorful and varied.	Wheat brings a smooth mouth-feel and hazy appearance to coriander- and orange-infused wits, and hefeweizens rife with nuances of banana and clove.

BEER WITHOUT WATER IS VERY CRUNCHY.

We're lucky enough to live in a region where getting a great craft brew is easy. But providing water 24/7 that breweries, beer lovers and others need is a major endeavor for the region's water agencies.

Drought conditions increase that challenge, so we all need to do our part to save water every day, every way.

So, raise a toast to water - and reduce your use. Eliminate leaks in your irrigation lines. Use hoses with shut-off valves. Upgrade to water-efficient appliances when you can. For information about the drought, including more water-saving tips and rebates, go to WhenInDrought.org.

That way we can all continue to enjoy San Diego County's finest.
